Lawrence Valley Trail

- signage for floral, fauna and history to be completed this spring
- severe flooding continues to happen
- rain, beavers and wetlands have their own agendas. We will be working on bridging over the low spots that flood this spring
- James Clowater, the ornithologist from Victoria, may be back for the May long weekend. Look for info coming. There will be small group bookings for informative birding sessions for a fee.

Jollity Trail

- still working on a final route but have worked the beginning and end.
- we will require extra hands to build stairs and move mulch for a hopeful opening on the May long weekend.

Other Possibilities

- we are always looking for future trail opportunities. Please, property owners, look for possibilities.
